It is no fun working on cold days without warming layers, and the Flamesafe Workwear FR Fleece Hoodie is a perfect solution to stay warm and protected. Its hood also has enough room for your hard hat, if you need to wear one.

Protect yourself from the cold weather and flash fire at work and zip up the front of this flame resistant workwear hoodie. You won't have to worry about catching fire with its reliable HRC 2 arc rating and ASTM 1506. It is made of fire resistant 12 oz. FR Fleece material that helps you retain body heat, while keeping you safe from any fire-related work accidents.

Like other authentic Flamesafe Workwear protective clothes, this FR hoodie is made with Maxisoft® technology, which means it is soft and cool on your skin – no uncomfortable sweaty and itchy feeling while you work. This preshrunk fabric holds up well and ensures your hoodie will not be saggy or baggy after a few uses and washes.

environment. This hoodie is specifically designed to provide you with extra warmth and protection, ensuring your comfort and safety at all times. With a Cat3 rating and an ATPV of 36, you can trust that this hoodie will keep you shielded from potential hazards.

But it doesn't stop there. We understand the importance of visibility and safety, especially when working in challenging conditions. That's why our fleece hoodie is not only cozy and comfortable, but also offers high-visibility compliance. It's the perfect choice for those extra cold days on the job when you need both warmth and visibility.

Our hoodie combines FR (flame-resistant) protection, hi-vis compliance, and comfort all in one. With CAT3 AR/FR protection, you can have peace of mind knowing that you're equipped with top-notch safety features. Additionally, our hoodie meets ANSI 107-2010 Class 3 Level 2 compliance and ANSI 107-2015 Type R Class 3 compliancy standards, ensuring that you're meeting the highest safety standards in the industry.

And let's not forget about the added layer of warmth provided by the waffle knit lining. This cozy lining enhances the insulation properties of the hoodie, keeping you even more comfortable in chilly temperatures. You'll be able to tackle any task with confidence, knowing that you're protected, visible, and snug.

Don't compromise on safety or comfort. Choose our double layer Hoodie and experience the perfect blend of warmth, protection, and visibility. Stay cozy, stay safe, and stay productive with our top-of-the-line hoodie.

A flame-resistant beanie is a type of hat that is specifically designed to be resistant to flames and heat. It is made from materials that are inherently fire-resistant, such modacrylic fibers. The beanie is typically a close-fitting, snug cap that covers the head and ears, providing protection from heat and flames.

Flame-resistant beanies are commonly used in industries where there is a risk of fire or heat exposure, such as firefighting, welding, and oil and gas exploration. They are also suitable for outdoor activities such as camping, hiking, and skiing, where protection from extreme temperatures and flames is important.

Whether you're looking for protection from the miserable heat of the sun, or strong winds while working outside, the double layer FR Vulcan hood will provide you great coverage and protect part of your face and neck from arc flashes and fire. Not to mention, the moisture wicking design makes it a lifesaver if you're sweaty.

The Flamesafe Workwear double layer Vulcan hood has reinforced self-binding design around the face. It does not interfere with your mask or hard hat.

It has a high arc rating (ATPV) of 32 Cal/cm² (HRC 3) and ASTM 1506 to keep arc flash and fire burns at bay. Whether you are in the lineman trade, a welder or work at a refinery, you can't go wrong with this fire resistant hood.

You already got your body covered, you should protect your face and neck, too, with your own affordable FR hood.
